

Institute for Multi-Sensory Education (IMSE) Virtual Orton-Gillingham Trainings

Virtual trainings will be provided LIVE on Zoom Video Conferencing.

- There will be opportunities for questions with your instructor as well as discussions between other participants.
- There may be opportunities for participants to partner with others in the class via FaceTime, Google Hangout, or other alternatives if participants so choose.
- IMSE is keeping Virtual Training class sizes small (around 30 people or less), so participants will be able to form connections with the instructor and other participants.
- Since there will not be an opportunity to practice face-to-face, teachers will be required to submit a short 10 minute video of yourself practicing what you learned each day.
 - participants will be required to upload the video into a folder shared by the instructor each day.
 - Daily readings and Learning Outcomes will also be submitted in the folder.

Additional Support Provided

- Upon completing the training participants will receive:
 - IMSE Interactive OG for two calendar years
 - Online Refresher Video for one calendar year
 - 30-Hour Certificate as long as all videos and Learning Outcomes are submitted

Schedule:

- Virtual trainings will follow the same schedule as a normal in-person training (i.e. usually Monday-Friday, with times around 8:30-3:30) to include breaks.
- Your instructor will discuss how breaks and lunch will fit into your days.
- Plan on 6 hours of instruction per day, which will most likely include your video submissions.

MATERIALS

- Training materials will ship to each individual participant unless other arrangements are requested.
- IMSE will need to receive a list of participants, that includes shipping information and email address
